DETERMINATION OF CUSTOMS VALUES OF SECONDARY QUALITY FLAT-ROLLED PRODUCTS OF IRON OR NON-ALLOY STEEL, COLD ROLLED (CR), UNDER SECTION 25-A OF THE CUSTOMS ACT, 1969

(VALUATION RULING NO. 1719/2022)

File. No. Misc/32/2007-VI/1335

Dated 21st December, 2022

In exercise of the powers conferred under Section 25A of the Customs Act, 1969, the Customs value of Secondary Quality Flat-Rolled Products of Iron or Non-Alloy Steel, Cold Rolled (CR) are determined as follows:-

2. Background of the valuation issue: Earlier, the Customs value of CRC (Secondary quality) as determined under Section 25A of the Customs Act, 1969 vide Valuation Ruling No. 1666/2022 dated 24.06.2022. Review Petitions were filed against the said Valuation Ruling phase when it remained constant. In order to understand the discount phenomenon on secondary quality CRC (Secondary quality), for instance, the discounts rates given in the Valuation Rulings issued in the past are tabulated below.

S. No.	Valuation Ruling No & Dated	Discount on account of secondary quality difference
1	717/2015 dated 11.02.2015	15%
2	1213/2017 dated 27.09.2017	15% (for listed countries in LMB) 16% (for non-listed countries in LMB)
3	1665/2022 dated 24.06.2022	29%

In the past, different institutions / bodies have provided the criteria/ input for determining the discount given to secondary quality HRC/CRC/GP from the prime quality of the said products. For instance, Pakistan Steel submitted formula, based on fixing of secondary grade material price at discount of 7% for IIRC & CRC and 10% for GP of prime products. From the perusal of the previous records pertaining to the impugned item, it transpires that the Directorate also sought input of Collectorates of Appraisement, East / West and Port Qasim, who were of considered view that discount given @ 15%, in Valuation Ruling No.717/2015, is justified and it needs to be continued. The stand point of M/s Siddiq Sons Tin Plate Limited, M/s International Steel Limited and Aisha Steel Mills Limited also endorsed the discount given in Valuation Ruling No.717/2015 as justified and all the stakeholders were satisfied with the discount in vogue since last seven years.

5. Method (s) adopted to determine Customs values: All the stakeholders were given adequate and sufficient opportunities of hearing during the meetings with the stakeholders. Valuation methods provided in Section 25 of the Act were duly followed and applied sequentially to address the valuation issue at hand. Transaction value method provided in sub-section (1) of Section 25 was found inapplicable because sufficient reason with respect to discount given under the Valuation Ruling No. 1666/2022 dated 24-06-2022 was not available and hence, the requisite information required under the law was not available to arrive at the correct / transaction value. Identical goods method, provided in sub-section (5) of Section 25, was examined and considered to determine customs value of subject goods. However, it was found that the same cannot be solely relied upon as the discount given (from prime quality to secondary quality) was not empirically proven. The "Similar Goods Method" provided in subsection (6) of Section 25 of the Act was then considered for application; however, the same was found inapplicable owing to the afore-stated reason. In line with the statutory sequential order of Section 25, the market inquiry using Deductive Value Method under Sub-Section (7) of Section 25 of the Act was not found relevant because the prices available in the market were of the freshly given discount which is not in line with any national / international formula and also against the established practice whereby discount @ 15% is conventionally given. Valuation method, provided vide Section 25(8) of the Act, could not be applied as the precise conversion cost for constituent materials and allied expenses, at countries of export were are not available. Keeping all the factors in view and after carefully analyzing all the available information from different sources, conventional discount from prime quality to secondary quality, well established practice and read with proviso to Section 25A(1), the customs value of the subject item is determined under Section 25(9), of the Customs Act, 1969.
